NIAGARA REGION, ON – Team Alberta sweeps the podium in athletics as they bring home 14 medals. Starting off the day was Britney Volkman (Leduc County) who raced hard to the finish and won gold in the women’s 100m wheelchair event.

Next up was the men’s 100m final where teammates Malachi Murray (Edmonton) and Ramone English (Edmonton) raced against each other. This race was one to watch as sprinter Malachi Murray had previously participated in this event in Birmingham at the 2022 Commonwealth Games. Both teammates ran an impressive race as they finished only milliseconds apart from each other with Ramone English taking silver and Murray taking bronze for Team Alberta. Ramone’s wishes at these games were to hopefully come out on top, and that is exactly what he did in his race today, while stepping onto the podium with teammate Murray.

The men’s hammer throw was up next with Team Alberta’s veteran Andreas Troschke (Lethbridge) and first-time Canada Summer Games competitor Sean Reimer (Lloydminster). Troschke’s goal going into these games was to trade his bronze medal from the Winnipeg 2017 Canada Summer Games for a gold and that’s exactly what he did today on the field. Troschke shared his excitement about this medal.

“I feel good now, after the competition was over, I didn’t feel great because I didn’t throw as far as I wanted to but saying that I still have a medal around my neck which makes me feel a little bit better. I’m one of the few people that is lucky enough to have the opportunity to do two Canada Summer Games, this is my second one, so I traded bronze for gold which has been a really good feeling.”

Teammate Sean Reimer joined him on the podium with excitement as he won the silver medal for Team Alberta.

The women’s 4x100m relay had an interesting turn of events today as they surprised themselves with a second-place finish on the podium. The women’s team was excited to have won this medal as a team as only Amy Candric (Calgary) specializes in the shorter 100m distances. The women’s team shared their excitement with the following comments.

“I feel really good about running the anchor leg. I’m glad we could all pull it together and were able to medal.” – Amy Candric

“It’s good, I’m really excited that we all could come together and win this medal together, especially because we aren’t 100m runners like Amy.” – Anok Tiordit

Just as you thought the day couldn’t get any better with all the hardware in athletics. Julia Demchuk (Calgary) and Kristiane Free (Calgary) won the bronze medal in the women’s Canoe Kayak K-2 200m at the Welland International Flatwater Centre.

Alberta currently sits in fourth position in the medal standings with 87 medals (29 Gold, 25 Silver and 33 Bronze).
